ONE LAST PLATE

THE TABLE WE SET TOGETHER

We began by asking you to pull up a chair. Now, fifty states later, the plates are nearly cleared — and this is the part of the meal that has always mattered most.

Somewhere back at the start of this book, we said that food is how we remember where we've been. We hope, by now, that the idea has cooked all the way through. Because if you made even a handful of these dishes, you didn't just cross the country — you tasted it. You stood, for an evening, in a New Haven pizzeria and an Alabama backyard and a Lowcountry rice kitchen, and you carried a little of each of them home.

That was always the point. These recipes were never really about the food alone. They were about the hands that first made them, and the reasons those hands reached for what was near: the catfish in the river, the huckleberries on the mountainside, the hog that could not be wasted, the wheat that came across an ocean in someone's pocket. Every dish in this book is a small act of ingenuity and love, passed down until it landed, somehow, on your stove. You are the newest cook in a very long line.

And you've added something of your own now, too. A little too much pepper, maybe, or a substitution born of an empty cupboard, or the particular way your kitchen smells when the oven has been on all afternoon. That is how these dishes have always survived — not by staying the same, but by being made again, by someone new, in a place the last cook never imagined. The recipe on the page is only the beginning of the sentence. You finish it.

So keep this book somewhere it can get a little splattered. Lend it out. Argue with it. Make the cobbler for a birthday and the chowder for a cold night and the hot chicken for someone you're trying to impress. A country, in the end, is just a great many tables — and every time you set one, you make a little more room at it.

Thank you for pulling up a chair.
The plate is always yours to pass.

FROM OUR TABLE TO YOURS

MENUS FOR THE OCCASION

Fifty states make a long and happy table, but a good meal is rarely eaten one dish at a time. What follows are a few gatherings drawn from across the country — plates that were never neighbors by geography, but that sit down together beautifully all the same. Cook a whole menu, or borrow a single dish and build your own. There is no wrong way to set this table.

The Fourth of July

Smoke, char, and something cold and sweet to finish — the country's birthday, coast to coast.

Grilled Chicken Sliders with Alabama White Sauce • Alabama 14
Elk Burgers with Spicy Huckleberry BBQ Sauce • Montana 134
Fried Green Tomatoes • North Carolina 162
Cast-Iron Skillet Cornbread • Oklahoma 174
Georgia Peach Cobbler • Georgia 52

A Sunday Supper

The slow, unhurried meal that anchors a week — a roast at the center and a pie to linger over.

Wild Rice Soup • Minnesota 118
Buffet-Style Prime Rib Roast with Pan Jus • Nevada 142
Funeral Potatoes • Utah 210
Apple Pie with Cheddar Cheese • Vermont 214

An East Coast Seaside Table

Everything the eastern U.S. coast gives up — briny, buttery, and best eaten with your sleeves pushed up. Dial back to one or two for a small meal or all four when family and friends are joining.

New England Clam Chowder • Massachusetts 108
Maryland Steamed Crabs • Maryland 104
Lobster Roll • Maine 100
Key Lime Grilled Grouper and Coconut Rice • Florida 48

A Cozy Winter Table

For the short, cold days — deep pots, long simmers, and warmth that fills the whole kitchen. Only one of these will do.

Burgoo · Kentucky 88
Gumbo · Louisiana 94
Knoephla Soup · North Dakota 166

A Weekend Breakfast

The meal worth waking up for, made slow — a griddle going and no one watching the clock.

Denver Omelet · Colorado 36
Scrapple Breakfast Sandwich · Delaware 44
Buckwheat Pancakes · West Virginia 226
Biscochitos · New Mexico 154

Game Day

Food built for a crowd and a couch — handheld, hearty, and happy to be shared.

Philly Cheesesteak · Pennsylvania 182
Chicago Dog · Illinois 69
Cincinnati Chili · Ohio 170
Chislic · South Dakota 198
Kringle · Wisconsin 232

A Road-Trip Picnic

Wrapped, packed, and carried — the flavors of the open road, meant to be eaten somewhere with a view.

Michigan-Style Cornish Pasty · Michigan 112
Bierock · Kansas 84
Fish Tacos · California 30
Gooey Butter Cake · Missouri 128

COOK WITH CONFIDENCE

A GUIDE FOR ALLERGENS

Every kitchen has someone to cook around — a gluten to avoid, a shellfish to fear, a nut that can't come near the table. This guide sorts all fifty-six recipes so you can find what fits, or see at a glance what to adjust. Where an allergen hides in a single, swappable ingredient, we've said so — because a good recipe should bend to the cook, not the other way around.

Free of All Major Allergens

No gluten, dairy, egg, shellfish, fish, peanut, tree nut, or soy in the recipe as written.

Kalua Pork · Hawaii 56
Corned Beef Boiled Dinner · New Hampshire 146
Chislic · South Dakota 198

Gluten-Free

Naturally, as written — always confirm broths, sauces, and seasoning blends carry no hidden wheat.

Akutaq · Alaska 18
Denver Omelet · Colorado 36
Key Lime Grilled Grouper and Coconut Rice · Florida 48
Burgoo · Kentucky 88
Buffet-Style Prime Rib Roast with Pan Jus · Nevada 142
Corned Beef Boiled Dinner · New Hampshire 146
Johnnycakes · Rhode Island 188
Gullah Shrimp and Sausage Perloo · South Carolina 192
Chislic · South Dakota 198
Funeral Potatoes · Utah 210
Cedar Planked Salmon with Honey-Balsamic Glaze · Washington 222
Cowboy Cutthroat Trout · Wyoming 238

Dairy-Free

Naturally, as written — some offer butter or cheese only as an optional finish, easily left out.

Grilled Chicken Sliders with Alabama White Sauce · Alabama 14
Akutaq · Alaska 18

Kalua Pork • Hawaii 56
Chicago Dog • Illinois 69
Burgoo • Kentucky 88
Gumbo • Louisiana 94

RECIPES THAT CONTAIN

Contains Shellfish

Crab, clam, lobster, or shrimp — central to the dish and not removable.

White Clam Apizza • Connecticut 40
Gumbo • Louisiana 94
Lobster Roll • Maine 100
Steamed Crabs • Maryland 104
New England Clam Chowder • Massachusetts 108
Gullah Shrimp and Sausage Perloo • South Carolina 192

Contains Fish

The fish is the dish and cannot be removed.

Akutaq • Alaska 18
Fried Catfish with Arkansas-Style Tartar Sauce • Arkansas 26
Fish Tacos • California 30
Key Lime Grilled Grouper and Coconut Rice • Florida 48
Cedar Planked Salmon with Honey-Balsamic Glaze • Washington 222
Cowboy Cutthroat Trout • Wyoming 238

Contains Fish — Hidden Source

Fish is present only through Worcestershire sauce, which contains anchovy. A fish-free Worcestershire (or a splash of soy or coconut aminos) removes it.

Finger Steaks with French Fries and Fry Sauce • Idaho 60
Burgoo • Kentucky 88
Gumbo • Louisiana 94

Elk Burgers with Spicy Huckleberry BBQ Sauce • Montana 134
Cincinnati Chili • Ohio 170
Philly Cheesesteak • Pennsylvania 182
Peanut Soup • Virginia 218

Contains Eggs

Whole eggs, yolks, or egg-based mayonnaise. Some appear only as an egg wash or optional binder.

Grilled Chicken Sliders with Alabama White Sauce • Alabama 14
Fried Catfish with Arkansas-Style Tartar Sauce • Arkansas 26
Fish Tacos • California 30
Denver Omelet • Colorado 36
Scrapple Breakfast Sandwich • Delaware 44
Finger Steaks with French Fries and Fry Sauce • Idaho 60
Hoosier Pie • Indiana 74
Ham Balls with Sweet Sauce • Iowa 80
Bierock • Kansas 84
Lobster Roll • Maine 100
Michigan-Style Cornish Pasty • Michigan 112
Mud Pie • Mississippi 122
Gooey Butter Cake • Missouri 128
Elk Burgers with Spicy Huckleberry BBQ Sauce • Montana 134
Cheese Frenchee • Nebraska 138
Pork Roll • New Jersey 150
Biscochitos • New Mexico 154
Fried Green Tomatoes • North Carolina 162
Knoephla Soup • North Dakota 166
Cast-Iron Skillet Cornbread • Oklahoma 174
Apple Pie with Cheddar Cheese • Vermont 214
Kringle • Wisconsin 232

Contains Peanuts

True peanuts — peanut butter and roasted peanuts — essential to the dish.

Peanut Soup • Virginia 218

Contains Tree Nuts

Pecans, almonds, or coconut. In Florida coconut is central; in Mississippi and Wisconsin the nuts appear as a topping or flavoring that can often be omitted.

Key Lime Grilled Grouper and Coconut Rice • Florida 48
Mud Pie • Mississippi 122
Kringle • Wisconsin 232

Contains Soy

Present through soy sauce, which can be swapped for coconut aminos.

Cedar Planked Salmon with Honey-Balsamic Glaze • Washington 222

A Note on Peanut Oil

These fried recipes list "peanut or vegetable oil." Refined peanut oil is generally considered safe for most peanut allergies, and each offers vegetable oil as an equal substitute. If in any doubt, choose the vegetable oil.

Sonoran Style Chimichanga • Arizona 22
Fish Tacos • California 30
Finger Steaks with French Fries and Fry Sauce • Idaho 60
